

The complete works

for your business

MCL Editions - eco-friendly electronic publishing for all your financial documents

MCL's experience in the development and deployment of hosted applications has been instrumental in bringing Editions to you – an affordable electronic publishing system that gives you complete control over high volume invoices, credit notes, despatch, and delivery notes, improving efficiency and dramatically reduces administration costs.

Unlimited Editions!

With a proven track record in providing retailer facing IT systems we understand how controlling costs in your business depends on efficient administration. MCL's electronic financial documents & delivery notes solution, Editions, has been specifically developed with this in mind.

Lower cost – added value!

Lower customer service cost + Save money - no postage + Never lose another invoice!

Easy to set up	Full set up service included at no additional cost. No IT expertise required, no need to invest in expensive equipment – save time & money.
Flexible format	Use standard branded or bespoke templates to replicate the existing style of your invoices and despatch & delivery notes.
Centrally held database hosted at MCL's secure computer centre	Reliable, safe and secure. Fully VAT compliant archive with auditable library system – all data is held for the statutory 6 years, with options for increased timescales or permanent archiving.
Easy to use	Powerful and flexible search facilities with smart indexing for fast retrieval. Simple browser based administration tools for easy customer maintenance.
Friendly Help Desk staff	A professional team with industry experience in customer service.
Standard internet interface	Link from your own website or direct to Editions.
Secure and relevant	Access on demand for you and your customers.

It all adds up!

Editions removes the need to produce paper invoices and allows customers to access electronically published copies centrally through secure internet access. By taking data feeds from your transactional systems and 'converting' them into standard formats not only can your administration costs be reduced but you can also provide content specific information to your authorised users.

The most useful edition you will every buy!

Substantial savings

No more paper, copying, printing, and distribution costs.

Faster settlement

No lost invoices, better invoice tracking.

Improved customer service

Enables your customers to answer their own financial queries

- Retrieval of financial documents as and when they need them
- Archive gives customers permanent access to their information

Plus Extra Options

- Additional archive storage of all your financial documents
- E-mail notification to customers that new documents have been published.
